Free as the voice of acoustay, That's wafted on the brevze-Giad as the waterms blue jay-That sings among the trees

Deep as the ranning streamlet, Smooth as the little rennet-That in the orchard grows.

Not a leaf is rustled by the gentle breeze,-not an intert chants its matin hymn,-the evening orison of the feathered songster is hushed in the grove. But hark! borne on the wind, comes faintly to the ear, the joyful ring of the "old church bell." Could we but look into the heart and record the different emotions called forth by its peal, how varied how interesting would be the record. To the christian, it speaks of a dying Saviour, of sins forgiven, of the world to come, and he hastens to meet "two or three who are assembled together in His name," To the sinner, it speaks the vengeance of an offended God It tells him, in language, not to be misunderstood, that he is drawing nearer to the confines of a hell that is yawning to receive him. THE MEMORIAL PROFESSOR SILLIMAN. AND THE REPLY OF

PRESIDENT BUCHANAN. WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.

The following is the memorial of Prof. Silliman and forty-two others, of Connecticut, addressed to his Excellency, James Buchanan, President of the United States :

"The undersigned, citizens of the United States, and electors of the State of Connecticut, respectfully offer to your Excellency, this, their memorial. The fundamental principle of the Constitution of the United States and of our political institutions is, that the people shall make their own laws, and elect their own rulers. We see with grief, if not with astonishment, that Governor Welker, of Kansas, openly represents and proclaims that the President of the United States is employing through him an army, one purpose of which is to force the people of Kansas to obey laws not their own nor of the United States, but laws which it is notorious and established upon evidence that they never made and rulers they never elected. We represent, therefore, by the foregoing, your Excellency is held up and proclaimed, to the great derogation of our National character, as the solemn oath which the President has taken to support the Constitution of this Union. We call attention further to the fact that your Excellency is in like manner held up to this parion, to all mankind, and to all posterity, in the attitude of "levying war against a portion of the United States, by employing arms in Kansas to uphold a body of men and a code of enactments purporting to be legislative, but which never had the election nor sanction, nor consent of the people of the Territ ry .-We earnestly represent to your Excellency, that we have also taken the oath to obey the Constitution, and your Excellency may be assured that we shall not refrain from the prayer, that the Almighty God
